Tailored, general and ongoing advice

Wealth Advisers Group advisers usually provide advice tailored to your individual circumstances and also have the capacity to implement the advice they give, except where this may require the use of other professionals (accountants and lawyers). You may choose to enter into an agreement with your adviser to provide you with both initial advice and ongoing advice. If appropriate, we may also provide general advice only, where you are ultimately responsible for ensuring that this advice is suitable to your particular needs, objectives and financial situation. In this case, you should also obtain any relevant product disclosure statements to assist in this purpose.

Should I transfer investment monies to my adviser's account?

No. Wealth Advisers Group does not allow advisers to receive your investment funds into their own account or into any Wealth Advisers Group account. You should only transfer investment funds for a financial product to the approved financial institution that issues the financial product (as specified in the Product Disclosure Statement or similar document). You should never transfer investment funds to any other entity or person.

You should also not sign any blank forms or appoint your adviser as your attorney (or authorised signatory). You should not appoint any other person as your attorney or authorised signatory unless you have received legal advice.

What information should I provide to my adviser?

You will need to provide your adviser with your personal objectives and your current financial situation including details of assets, liabilities, income and living expenses. This can best be accomplished by completing a Wealth Advisers Group Client Data Form. The amount and type of information we will require from you depends on what financial services you require. It is important that you provide us with complete and accurate information about your current personal circumstances and financial situation.

If you choose not to supply the required information or provide us with inaccurate information, the advice you receive may not be appropriate to your needs, objectives and financial situation.

You should read the warnings contained in the SOA, check any assumptions we make and review the basis for our advice carefully before making a decision about whether to proceed with the advice. You should also obtain and read any relevant product disclosure statements prior to applying for a financial product.

How will I pay for the services provided?

Your adviser's specific method of remuneration and fees, including referral fees, are detailed in their Adviser Profile. The exact remuneration and fee details will be disclosed to you in the SOA.

All fees will be payable to Wealth Advisers Group. If your adviser's remuneration includes commission paid by a product provider, such commission payment will be made to Wealth Advisers Group. Wealth Advisers Group does not retain any commissions and fees we receive. The entire amount is passed on to your adviser.

How are any commissions, fees or other benefits calculated for providing the financial services?

The three stages of financial planning are Initial Advice, Implementation and Ongoing Reviews. There is usually a separate fee for each of the three stages. Your adviser's remuneration structure for each advice stage will be found in their Adviser Profile and the dollar value disclosed to you in the SOA.

All commissions are payments made by the insurance product provider and are calculated as a percentage of the premium paid on insurance products. Commissions are of two types: (a) upfront or initial; and (b) ongoing or trail.

Fees can be based on: a percentage of funds invested or funds under advice, hourly rates multiplied by the hours worked, an agreed dollar amount for the value of the specific service being performed, or a combination of these.

The typical ranges of commission and fee rates for investments and insurance products are as follows.

Upfront fees can vary between nil and 5.5% on investment products. Example: $100,000 invested in a wrap service may involve an upfront fee payment of say 3% or $3,000 which could be deducted from your investment account and paid to Wealth Advisers, leaving a net investment of $97,000.

Ongoing fees can be collected by platforms and other product providers and percentage-based fees can be up to 2% pa, but normally in the range of 0.5% to 1.5% pa depending on the size of the portfolio. Example: A portfolio of $300,000 may be subject to an ongoing portfolio review fee of 1% per annum paid quarterly. This would amount to $3,000 per annum.

Upfront commissions can be up to 66% of the premium paid on insurance products.

Ongoing commissions can be up to 33%.

The precise amount of all these commissions and any other fees charged will be disclosed in your SOA.

What should I know about any risks of the investments or investment strategies you recommend to me?

Wealth Advisers Group may only recommend to you investment products that are researched, analysed and approved by Wealth Advisers Group. Your adviser should explain any significant risks of investments and financial planning strategies. If the adviser does not do so, you should contact us to explain those risks to you.
